This edition of Wecomi marks Mr. Don Elfstrom's twentieth year as a yearbook faculty advisor. His standard of excellence is printed on the pages of yearbooks from Wheaton-Warrenville, and Wheaton Central. His commitment to quality is evident on the faces of the students who decorate the over 3,000 pages of yearbooks he has helped write, photograph, develop, edit, and direct. Few students are aware of the hours of additional time that are required to complete the yearbook, but it is clear to those who have worked with him that the task would have been impossible without him. Without his tireless energy and commitment, these valued possessions of ours would not be characterized by the detail and care that they have been over the years. He has recorded what we were, and few teachers have the opportunity to give each of us a tangible memory of our past. Mr. Elfstrom, we thank you for the gift you've given us, and on behalf of all those that have gone before us, we wish you a fond farewell and a hearty "Thanks for the memories."

A traveler can look back over the voyages he has taken by thumbing through his passport. For each country he entered, his passport bears a stamp.

Most WCHS students haven't done much traveling this year, but in many ways, the school year itself was a voyage and an exploration. Joining the Wheaton Central "tour guides" were many new staff in teaching and administration. The updated passenger list included not only the class of '90, but also many students new to the area and a large number of students from overseas. Everyone met in August at a school that had undergone considerable renovation — a fresh paint job, plus promises of a picnic area and more parking, prepared the building for the journey through another year.

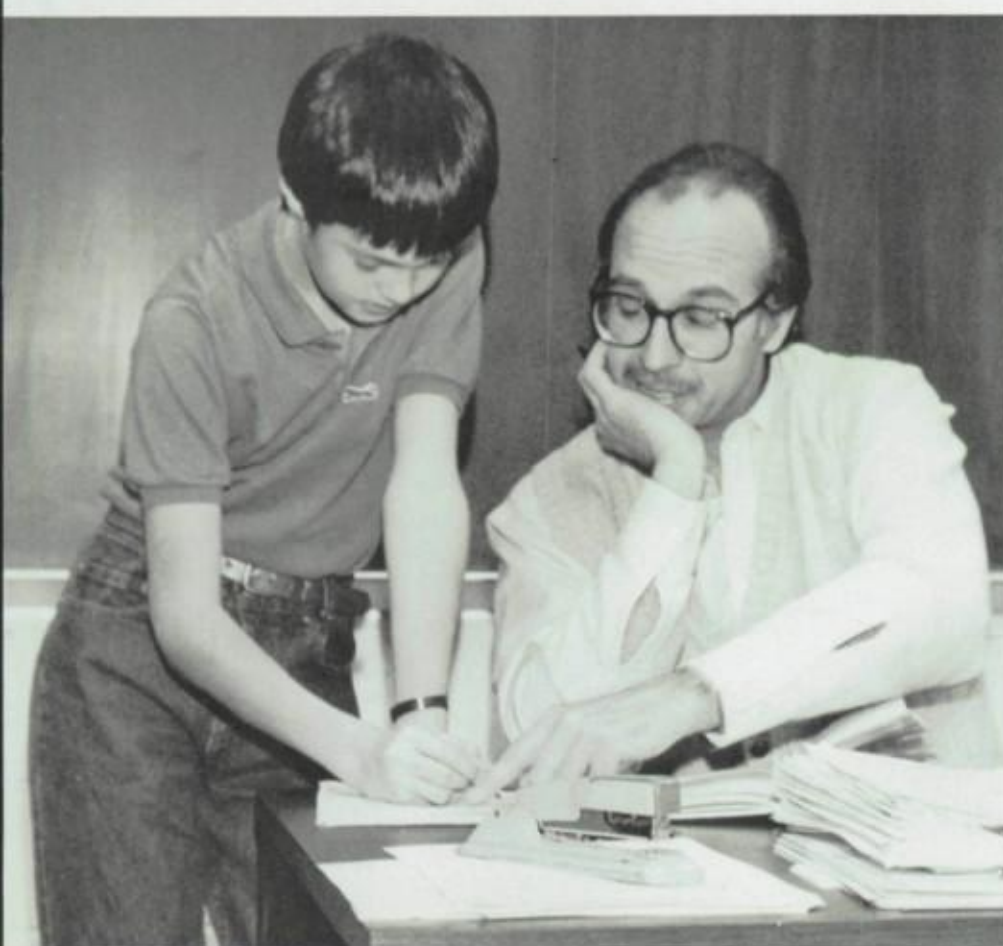

During 1986-87, Wheaton Central students and staff were able to explore new areas of the scholastic experience. Senior privileges were reborn and the class of '87 took great steps toward revitalizing school spirit. Students from all classes ventured into unknown territory by taking charge of one-act plays, new clubs, academic competitions, and many other school and community projects. Like all travelers, they experienced something that they couldn't have understood without stepping away from the familiar.

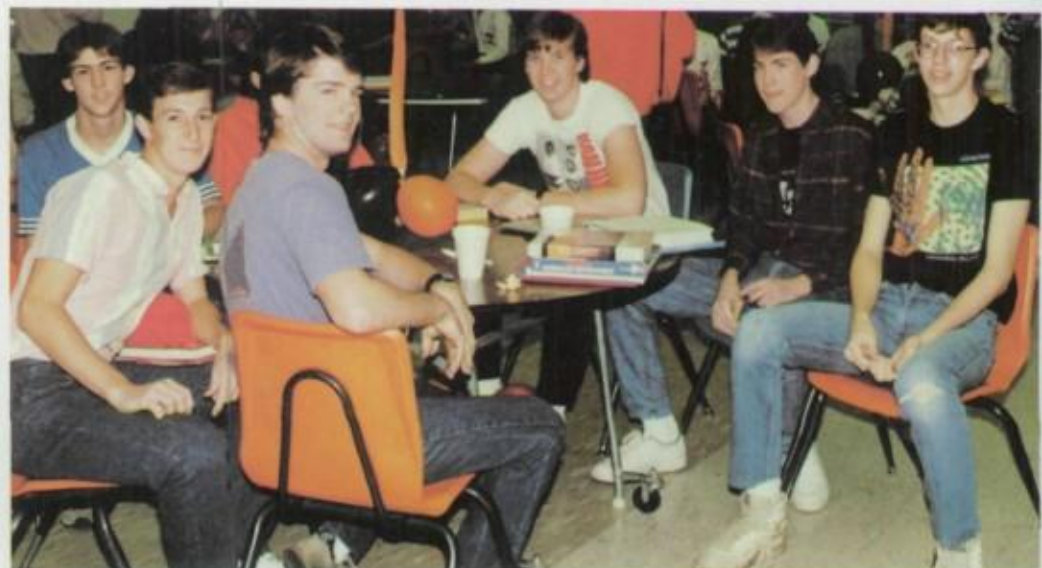

It's time to thumb through your passport and relive a little bit of the journey. Bon voyage!

ACTIVITIES

ORCHESTRA

This year's orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Fitchuk, has continued to improve tremendously with more practices and rehearsals. The group performed for many school functions including the fall Parent Open House, and the Booster Club's Pancake Breakfast and Spaghetti Dinner. The orchestra also taped a Christmas show for CENTEL Cable TV. In addition to these special appearances, the group played in the annual Christmas and Spring concerts, two All-District string concerts, the Variety Show, and the All-District High School Music Festival. Like last year, several members of the orchestra played at various dinners and brunches for audiences like the Wheaton Chamber of Commerce. Everyone commended the orchestra's talent and professionalism.

Individually, the students in the orchestra have been involved in many other music-related activities. Many students participated in the IHSA Solo and Ensemble contest. Others played solos at the Spring Art Show. Jeff Wiedemeier, principal violist, was chosen to participate in the IMEA District Orchestra. This orchestra is a combination of the best high school musicians in the Chicagoland area. Jeff, along with violinists Sylvia Sung and Kirsten Young and cellist Fran Haddock, combined to form a quartet, impressing all of their audiences. Pianist Annie Huang performed at Cantigny with other winners from last year's Society of American Musicians Music Contest. Annie, Sylvia, and Mr. Fitchuk were also part of the pit band in this year's musical The Boyfriend.

The highlight of this performing season was the orchestra's tour of Toronto. The group gave many wonderful performances, some of them combined with the Show Choir, who also went to Toronto. When they weren't performing, the group went shopping and sight-seeing. Everyone had a terrific time. The success of the Toronto trip hopefully inspired other musicians to contribute their talent to our orchestra.

The cast of "The Boyfriend" was picked in September and soon afterwards, they were ready to perform. There was one minor difficulty in producing the musical. The ceiling over the stage was ruled unsafe and needed to be repaired. Also, the stage was declared off limits until January. Through all the trials and tribulations, the cast proceeded with rehearsals, and in January both the stage and the cast were ready. "The Boyfriend" was a comedy about boarding school girls in Nice, France. The seventeen-year-olds were ready to date and marry. During the play, the girls and boys experienced many amusing mishaps while trying to get together. The climax of the musical was the costume ball at the end where all were happily engaged.

"The Boyfriend" was a wonderful combination of comedy and drama. The audience loved it — especially when Mr. Gerace and alumni Suzi Bennett danced a Tango. Once again, Wheaton Central's fine arts department put on a spectacular show.

This year's Show Choir continued to dazzle audiences under new director, Gordon Krauspe.

The Show Choir performed at many major functions, luncheons, and dinners. Some of the elite audiences included the Telephone Pioneers and the members of the Downers Grove Park District. The Show Choir also electrified many Wheaton citizens when it performed at the annual Cream of Wheaton and many WCHS Booster Club functions.

The group combined with the Chamber Singers to compete at the IHSA Organizational Contest. The members also performed at the first all-choral concert in Wheaton Central's History. The group then went on to the Choral Festival, where they competed against other fine Show Choirs.

The Wheaton Central Show Choir had yet another busy and exciting year. The elite members combined their musical and dancing skills to create incredible shows, which were seen and applauded by many.

This year, under the leadership of Mr. Krauspe, the one-time 110 member Mixed Chorus of years' past was divided into three different choral groups. Along with a smaller Mixed Chorus, the Treble Choir and Chamber Singers entertained and impressed audiences. All three choruses performed in the annual Christmas and Spring concerts, as well as in their 1st Fall concert with the Orchestra and their 1st All-Choral Concert. All of the choral groups also participated in the IHSA Organizational Contest for choirs. Greg Taff, a member of the Chamber Singers, performed as a member of the elite IMEA District Festival Chorus.

The Treble Choir was comprised of forty-five more advanced sopranos and altos. The members performed a wide variety of music from pop to classical to jazz at the local grade schools and several WCHS Booster functions. The Treble Choir also taped a Christmas Show for CENTEL Cable TV.

The other new choral group at Central was the Chamber Singers. This group of outstanding singers met every Monday evening for two hours. Like the Show Choir, the Chamber Singers traveled to perform for various organizations, clubs and corporations. In addition, the group sang at Cantigny, on CENTEL Cable TV, and for hundreds of Wheaton households by Christmas caroling. This year's Chamber Singers was the basis for next year's Madrigals.

ONE-ACT PLAYS

A tradition returned to Wheaton Central this year. Two exceptional seniors and one talented junior had the opportunity to direct one-act plays. They used their talent to mold the student actors and actresses into two excellent casts.

The Waltz of the Toreadors was directed by senior Charlie Jensen and junior "Spike" Spengel. This show was a "French Farce", or an "outrageous comedy". The basic plot concerned the tragedy and comedy of a love triangle: a general (Craig Sloan), his hypochondriac wife (Suzanne Sokalski), and his true love/mistress (Elizabeth Varnhagen). The sub-plot revolved around the general's two daughters (Brigitte Kubin and Jenny Esterman), who were constantly competing for the attention of the general's secretary (Jay Johnston). Add to this a French maid (Courtney Gardner), a nanny/dressmaker (Beth Woodruff), and a doctor (Dave Bryson), and you have one funny show.

Where Have All the Lightning Bugs Gone?, directed by senior Chris Mancini, was also a hysterical comedy. This show centered around a couple in a park who held a very lively conversation, during which they pantomimed the actions of many different characters. The talent that actors Mike Crowl and Felicia Slattery showed in changing accents and attitudes kept the audience thoroughly entertained.

Winnie The Pooh

Once upon a time ...

What you talkin' 'bout man?

Isn't it funny how a bear likes hunny?

Got to take action!

Hey, hey, hey!

ee cheers for Pooh!

Help! I'm stuck!

you've heard!

I get you out!

Winnie the Pooh was performed at seven elementary schools over a two-day period, and twice at Wheaton Central. The cast of 12 and the four members of the stage crew were extremely dedicated. They overcame such problems as the main character breaking her leg and one of the important props being too large to transport.

The play was produced by Merle Kulinski and directed by Bonnie Kingsberry, a student teacher from Wheaton College. The assistant director was Danielle Paquette. Under their direction, the forest became alive with talkative and mischievous animal characters such as Kanga, Roo, Pooh, Rabbit and Piglet. A lot of hard work made Winnie the Pooh delightful childrens' entertainment.

TECH CREW

The house lights go down and the curtain opens. The spotlights focus on the main character as he walks out onto the set. How many people are involved in the scene?

If you said one, you were wrong. You forgot about the person working the spotlight, the person pulling the curtain, the person who keeps everything under control whenever possible, and the numerous people who prepared the set . . . The actors aren't the only people at work on a play or musical- the tech crew is also busy!

Tech crew has worked on all the major school drama productions this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Don Hood, they built the sets and larger props, made set changes between scenes, and assigned people to be in charge of sound, lighting, and the main curtain. The members worked very long hours and often had to make last minute changes and preparations.

The next time you attend a school production, try not to forget the people behind the scenes. They work hard to make sure that your evening's entertainment runs smoothly.

The SADD chapter at Wheaton Central continued to attack the problem of drunk driving. Led by President Sherry Mutschler, Vice-President Gina Brown, officers Wendy Chilcote, John Fawver, Viraj Shah, and faculty advisor John Stacey, many activities were planned and carried out.

Over the summer, our chapter participated in the Wheaton Fourth of July Parade, receiving much recognition from the crowd. The group also joined Glenbard West in a protest in front of the DuPage County Courthouse. They picketed for stiffer penalties for drunk drivers. For their efforts, the group received much support from Secretary of State Jim Edgar.

In the fall, our SADD chapter hosted the local Drug and Alcohol Awareness Conference. Nancy Hauptman, President of the DuPage County Task Force, helped organize the conference, in which fifteen schools attended. The event was covered by several newspapers and TV stations.

In December, officers Gina Brown, Sherry Mutschler, and John Fawver went to WMRO Radio Station in Aurora to tape several 30-second public service announcements, which were aired through New Year's Eve. Later in the year, SADD sponsored a Valentine's Day contest. Students turned in Contracts for Life that were signed by their parents. Three contracts were chosen for a variety of prizes.

HERITAGE CLUB

The Heritage Club, started by Lee and Stacey Harris, was a new organization at Wheaton Central this year. The membership consisted of students who wanted to become more aware of the achievements made by minority groups in America. The club explored many cultures, specifically ones in which the members expressed an interest. Some foreign exchange students spoke at the meetings and the club visited several museums in Chicago. A bake sale and other fund raisers helped to raise money needed for other events. The main purpose of the club was to break down existing stereotypical barriers.

"Ugh! Latin Club, how gay!" Unfortunately, this is the general opinion of the WCHS student body, but we lowly beings do manage to have some fun. We plan ways to raise money such as the ball toss booth at 'Centralfest' and candy bar sales outside of school. We then use the money for pizza parties and other similar activities. The club officers this year were Karen Charles, President; Jeff Kincaid, Vice-President; Sam Limentato, Secretary; Suzanne Sokalski, Treasurer. And as always, Venimus, Vidimus, Vovemus pizzas!

French Club expanded this year under the guidance of its new sponsor, Mrs. Leslie Bower. The club gained several new members and was able to hold two fundraisers.

In the fall, French club elected these officers for 1986-'87: President, Cathy Woodhouse; Vice-President, Kelly Hardin; Secretaries Marya Zamindar and Julie Betts; and Treasurer Eric Schwarze. The officers organized the club's fortune-telling booth and mousse/sorbet table at Centralfest. They also planned activities for the bi-monthly meetings. The club played French games, ate French food, watched French movies, and celebrated Mardi Gras. In December, French club sold foreign language t-shirts, sweatshirts, and posters. Money from the fundraiser was used to award prizes for the foreign language poster contest and to fund the annual French dinner in Chicago. The members of the French Club enjoyed an exciting year. Through a variety of activities, they were able to learn more about the language and culture of France.

This past summer, eight students and two teachers enjoyed the "German experience" by traveling to Germany. The trip was both rewarding and unique to all.

Along with trips to Nuremburg, Regensburg, and Munich, each student had the opportunity to visit other parts of Germany with their host families. Some students were even fortunate enough to see Italy and Austria.

After three short weeks in Neumarkt, the group headed to Berlin. For a week, the group acquainted themselves with Berlin by visiting the Europa Center, the Berlin Wall, shopping on the Kurfuerstendamm, or boating on the Tegelsee.

The month long stay in Germany ended with a glimpse of life in East Berlin, before taking a night train to Frankfurt for the flight home.

By traveling to Germany, these students were enabled to experience a different culture and lifestyle. The group exchange was enjoyable and memorable for all.

STEP- Germany is the Student Exchange Program at Wheaton Central which is solely responsible for giving some students from Germany the opportunity to visit America and learn about our culture. Every spring, about fifteen students and two teachers from the Ostendorfer Gymnasium in Neumarkt, Germany venture across the Atlantic for a three week stay in Wheaton. In return, a group of Wheaton Central students travel to Neumarkt each summer.

Heading the German Club was President Chris Haworth, Vice-President Jim Stromberg, Secretary Robin Johnston, and Treasurer Annie Huang. Also in leadership positions are Kirsten Young, head of the Hosting Committee, and Andy Erins, the leader of the Activities Committee.

STEP had two fundraisers this year. They worked at the Centrafest, selling delicious German chocolate and Gummi Bears. Also, they sold chocolate advent calendars at Christmastime.

STEP was very busy preparing for the German's stay in America. Not only did they have to pair the German students with host families, but they also sponsored several trips to Chicago, weekend trips, field trips, and parties. As a result of their excellent planning and leadership, the German students and visitors had a chance to truly experience a different way of life.

The members of the Spanish Club could often be seen on Thursdays in the foreign language rooms, involved in many activities. Some of these activities included the making of Spanish pinatas and the participation in Spanish games. One of the highlights of the year was when Spanish exchange student, Susana Terres-Roig, spoke about her hometown, beautiful Grenada, Spain. Susana also spoke of the different Spanish customs, and taught the members how to dance "La Flamenca," a traditional Spanish dance.

The Spanish Club consisted of students who wished to learn more about the unique cultures of both Spain and Mexico. Led by the Spanish Club officers- Gina Brown, Sherry Mutschler, Mary McCall and Monika Koriakan, the Spanish Club again had an exciting and successful year.

In 1986-87, Wheaton Central continued its tradition of hosting a chapter of the national French, Spanish, and German honor societies. These societies were founded with the purpose of encouraging students to pursue their study of foreign languages and cultures. Members are expected to be active and interested foreign language students who are committed to promoting international understanding. Because these societies are principally academic, they admit only students who maintain at least an A- average in their studies of foreign language and a B average in their other courses.

The sponsors of these societies are Nancy Irey (FNHS), Al Samper (SNHS), and Mary Lou Tate (GNHS). In the fall, FNHS elected four new officers — Cathy Woodhouse, president; Lisa Robb, vice president; Kelly Hardin, secretary; and Kathy Hodel, project organizer. SNHS elected three new officers — Lori Zahorodny, president; Mary McCall, secretary; and Jenni Heaton, treasurer.

This year, FNHS organized two academic activities. The first was a tutoring program which offered early level French students the opportunity to meet with a FNHS member outside of school hours for extra instruction or help with French. In the spring, FNHS members formed an after-school study group to prepare for Le Grand Concours, a national French contest.

New members joined the societies in the spring. They received invitations to attend the official induction ceremony, which was carefully planned by the other members. The ceremonies included guest speakers, pinning ceremonies, and other traditional events. The language honor societies provided much-deserved recognition for outstanding foreign language students. As the FNHS motto says, "The person who knows two languages has double worth."

OPERATION SNOWBALL

Operation Snowball is a national program designed to bring together adults and teenagers to share information and to develop positive attitudes towards life. A chapter of this organization was founded at Wheaton Central this year. The group was sponsored by Mr. Gary Luckey, Mrs. Mary B. Wangerin, Alesha Gundersen, and Dawn Larson were the district representatives for Wheaton Central.

From November 14-16, Operation Snowball sponsored a weekend retreat held at Lorado Taft in Oregon, Ill. There 55 teens and 12 adults enjoyed themselves while learning more about themselves and others. The weekend was co-directed by Mr. Gary Luckey and Mrs. Allene Gundersen.

Snowball also held bimonthly meetings, guest speakers presented information on topics such as leadership peer pressure and the problems of drugs and alcohol abuse. Snowball 86-87 was a positive experience for all its participants.

On January 30, two traditional school events took place. In the afternoon was the student/faculty basketball game. The student body cheered on the team of senior men, while the faculty led yells of their own and sang the school song. Their support paid off when the faculty emerged victorious.

In the evening was the Italian dinner. Parents and students enjoyed great food and the performance of school musical groups. This event raised funds for the Booster Club and was a huge success.

Wheaton Central has many things to be proud of, but few deserve more recognition than its Speech Team. With the innumerable hours of instruction, coaches Joe Gerace, Donna Messina, Scott Rebman, and Lisza Alexander, the Speech Team continued its tradition of success by placing fourth at the IHSA State Tournament this year.

The Speech Team, both Novice and Varsity, dominated every tournament they attended. The Varsity Team won all seven tournaments where the full team competed, including the Andrew High School Tournament, the Thornwood Tournament, and the Thornridge Tournament — all against excellent competition. At Andrew, the Team set an all-time high score with 66 final round points. In its four competitions, the Novice Team was also undefeated.

Central's Speech Team won the Regional Tournament, advancing eleven of twelve events to Sectionals. Subsequently, seven events advanced to State. Qualifying for State were Charlie Jensen, second in State in Dramatic Duet Acting and third in State in Verse Reading; Chris Mancini, fifth in State in Humorous Duet Acting and qualifying in Prose Reading; Jerusha Matsen, second in State in D.D.A. and qualifying in Dramatic Interpretation; Rekha Rao, third in State in Oratory; Sessie Schomas, fifth in State H.D.A.; and Keith Spengel, third in State in Humorous Interpretation.

Amidst the hard work, everyone on the Speech Team still managed to enjoy himself. Each person's colorful personality, talent, and hard work made this season a successful and memorable one in all aspects.

Mention PAC to the average student, and he will most likely replay with a confused "Huh?" However, to the students who are members of this group, PAC represents fun, friendship, and a meaningful experience. Peer Assistant Corps(PAC) began in the summer when students took a two-week course, training them in communication, listening, and other skills. During the school year, under the supervision of Mrs. Zeck and Mrs. Wangerin, they met once a month on Thursday evenings to organize and share ideas. Members would lead a group of study hall students in discussions and activities designed to help students open up about their feelings and problems. Also, they helped new students adjust to a different environment. The enthusiastic response towards PAC was encouraging to all the members, and the closeness, sharing, and friendship that they experienced will be remembered for a long time.

FRIENDS FROM ABROAD

Sharmin, Karolina Gustafson, Alex Wijnen, Faiyaz Hussain, Masanori Sh
mozato, Susana Terres-Roig, Naomi Kobayashi.

During the 1986-87 school year, Wheaton Central hosted quite a few foreign exchange students. Two of these students were from Brazil—Patricia Pinheiro and Joy Shedd. Patricia has really liked being in the U.S. and although she has often felt homesick, “Patty,” has fit in well in America and plans to come back someday.

Joy came to the U.S. with her family, and although she likes the U.S. and its people, she wants to return to Brazil “rapido!”

Masanori Shimozato from Tokyo believes that although Japan is a fun and safe country, he’d rather stay in America for another year.

Naomi Kobayashi, the second Japanese exchange student at Wheaton Central, is a senior. She believes that American and Japanese teenagers share the same values.

Susana Terres-Roig and Maria Lopez were both visiting WCHS from Spain. Susana loves American food—especially hamburgers and cookies.

Maria liked Wheaton Central and was sad to leave in January. Unfortunately, her host family moved to Naperville.

Karolina and Sara Gustafson were two sisters from Sweden, staying with their family in Wheaton for one year. They have found life in America very different from Sweden. In Sweden, they had more freedom in school, and a less vigorous schedule.

In the middle of the 1985-86 school year, Jeanette Sharmin came to Wheaton Central as an exchange student from South Africa. During her stay, which ended in January of ‘87, she met many new people and made new friends.

Faiyaz Hussain came to American on a student visa from Bahrain, a small country in the Arabian gulf. Unlike the other foreign students, Faiyaz will stay in the U.S. for two years.

ART CLUB

ART CLUB MEMBERS: Emily McEwan, Sessie Schomas, Neha Desai, Chris Dann, Jim McCann, Dave Mellot, Andrea Proctor, Brian Dahlquist, Liz Toohey, Doug Weckesser, Sponsor: Robert Baumgartner.

Art Club was sponsored this year by Mr. Robert Baumgartner. The members were students from all classes who shared an interest in art and culture. They met several times during the year to discuss the club's activities. The main goal of Art Club this year was to gain recognition for student artists. The club collected and hung student artwork in display cases around the school building. Members later helped with the Spring Art Show. Thanks to the efforts of these talented and hard-working people, art awareness at Wheaton Central was greatly increased.

TURNABOUT

PEP CLUB

For the first time since 1982, Wheaton Central has again had a Pep Club. Headed by Miss Samuelson, the Pep Club was created to promote school spirit and to encourage the student representatives of Wheaton Central. The Pep Club's activities included making locker stickers, banners and signs; planning pep assemblies; taking attendance at school functions; selling "Tiger Pride" buttons; creating publicity for school events; and helping the Booster Club. Led by Secretary Anne Ni, Treasurer Nancy Fox, and many other dedicated people, this year's Pep Club succeeded in reviving that great Tiger Spirit.

Student Conference has had yet another busy and successful year. In order to improve the communication between the student body and the administration, they set up a suggestion box in the hallway. By receiving these creative ideas submitted by students, the Stu-Con was able to keep these lines of communication open.

The Stu-Con planned both Homecoming Week and the mid-winter Spirit Week. They also prepared for several school dances. In the spring, they planned the annual blood drive, and around Christmas, they headed Christmas sharing.

As a result of their tremendous efforts, the members of the Student Conference organized another year full of fun and spirit.

CLASS COUNCILS

The Freshman Class Council were elected the beginning of the school year. Officers were: Betsy Bourdreau, President, Brad Doy, Vice President, Sherry Lin, Treasurer, Troy Swanson, Secretary, and Breda Dean and Jerusha Matsen, Members-at-Large. These excited officers helped bring together a group at Homecoming that did an outstanding job painting a window and held a successful pie throw at Centrafest.

During the year, the freshmen held open houses and sold carnations. Some members also helped serve refreshments at the dances. Sponsors of Freshman Class Council were Mrs. Olsen and Miss Messina.

Sophomore Class Council, headed by president Jenny Grant, Vice President Tiffany Kouzes, Secretary Cindi Connelly, Treasurer Janet Kim, and Members at Large Bridgette Kubin and Amy Heatherington, worked very hard this year. Many more dedicated members helped

Stu-Con with the school beautification projection. This group also had many fundraisers, including a car smash at Centrafest, an open house, a candy-cane sale at Christmas, and two flower sales. Their biggest accomplishment, however, was Turnabout '87. The dance was well-attended and a huge success. The sophomores anxiously await next year so they can begin plans for Prom '88. The sponsors who dedicated themselves and their time and energy were Mr. Zimmer and Mrs. Campbell.

The Junior Class Council got off to a great start during Homecoming week. The juniors placed first in hall decorations, first in window painting, and second in class competition. This led then to a second place in overall Homecoming competition.

After Homecoming, the juniors' main focus was fundraising. With money for Prom in mind, they worked hard during Christmas Sharing week to bring in the most items for the needy. Open houses also helped them earn money. A year of hard work paid off; the Junior/Senior Prom held at Brookwood Country Club on May 29 was a great success.

No one believed it could be done, but with the leadership of the seniors, Wheaton Central finally got its Senior Center. This privilege for the seniors was only one of the many that the class council worked for and achieved. The class of 1987 also received senior parking privileges in the major lot for themselves and for the upcoming senior classes. The Senior Class Council chose its graduation announcements and finished the annual senior wall and paintings in the Senior Center. But the most important accomplishments of the senior council were to help lead the seniors and the rest of the school towards better spirit and unity.

CAESURA

"Literary magazine?! What's a literary magazine??" was the question mumbled through the halls in September. Wheaton Central hadn't printed a literary magazine for three years, so stirring student interest was the task at hand for the Caesura staff. The job was difficult but by January, over 150 articles had been submitted. The literary magazine was sponsored by Mrs. Byrnes and assembled by the first and second semester Creative Writing classes.

Approximately twenty students who excel in math formed this year's math team. The team competed in the DuPage Valley Conference Tournament and at the ICTM Regional and State Math Contests. At all the contests, every student competed individually and in teams. Central sent up to five students in each of the following categories: Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, and Pre-Calculus. After the individual competition, the students combined to form a Two-Person Freshman/Sophomore Team, a Two-Person Junior/Senior Team, an Eight-Person Freshman/Sophomore Team, and an Eight-Person Junior/Senior Team. There were also special events including the Calculator Team Competition, and the Oral Competition.

This year, there were no tryouts for the Math Team. Instead, all interested students were allowed to compete. The team met every other week on Tuesdays or Thursdays. They practiced using old copies of Illinois Math League and other contest questions. They also had timed "competitions". All of the Math Team members participated in the Illinois Math League Competition held every month. Wheaton Central consistently produced high scores, reaching a perfect team score of 30 in January. The students also took the ASHME Math Test, which is one of the most challenging national math tests given. Scoring well on this test is very hard because points are deducted for every wrong answer. Nevertheless, most of our Math Team students scored in the top ten percent in our school.

Since 1985, Wheaton Central has been represented in the ICTM State Math Contest. Every year, the success of our Math Team has grown tremendously. We are very proud of the accomplishments these students have made in the past year.

For the first time ever, Wheaton Central competed in Scholastic Bowl, an Illinois High School Association competition. Students competed by using their knowledge of science, math, social studies, art and literature, and other academic and vocational areas. Sponsor Mrs. Tate coached approximately twenty Central students every Monday after school. The group practiced by playing Trivial Pursuit and Jeopardy. The team also had research days and a field day at Wheaton North.

The students competed in seven meets and several tournaments. Each meet was against a different member of the DuPage Valley Conference. Depending on the number of team members from other schools, both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams competed. However, only the Varsity matches counted toward our rank in the DVC Conference meet. A team in Scholastic Bowl consisted of ten members, of which five play at a time. Central's competitors operated on a rotating basis, allowing everyone to play at the Varsity level.

The success of the team's first season was not the most important concern. What was more important was the fun and experience everyone had. The installation of Scholastic Bowl gave Wheaton Central's students another area of interest where they can use their talent.

Twice a year, a select group of students are led into a candlelit room and, after a complex ritual, initiated into an elite student organization. No, it's not an obscure religious rite, it's merely the induction ceremony for the National Honor Society. President Eve Schuster presided over this year's ceremonies, in which the top 15% of the senior class and the top 10% of the junior class were inducted into the NHS.

Despite enthusiastic support from faculty sponsors Sam Bachtold and Peggy Henry, the NHS has not done very much this year. This is because the members are among the most active in the school, and therefore have little time for NHS activities. They did find time, however, to act as guides at the parent open house, as ushers for the senior's honors banquet, and as marshalls at commencement. Among the individual accomplishments of NHS members, Annie Ni and Lori Zahorodny were chosen to represent Wheaton Central in a scholarship competition among other NHS chapters.

With their involvement in school activities and commitment to excellence in school work, NHS members are definitely la creme de la creme.

ILLINOIS STATE SCHOLARS

This year's Illinois State Scholars were all chosen on the basis of their scores on the SAT or ACT tests taken in their junior year, their class standing, and moral character. In December these 73 students received Certificates of Achievement and wide recognition from the media for their accomplishment. Although they won't obtain any direct monetary awards from ISSC, they are actively recruited by accredited colleges and universities in the state of Illinois; and upon attending these institutions, they may be eligible to receive scholarships toward their tuition. Congratulations to all these super seniors for a job well done!

OFFICE EDUCATION

The Office of Education Program was geared toward students who are interested in some kind of office career. It was composed of three parts: 1) class; 2) work; and 3) the Office Education Association. Headed by Mrs. Hyde, class time was spent working on skills needed for the office job, such as using computers, typing and filing. Each student was required to have a job or to obtain one within the first several weeks of school in order to be eligible for release time from school. The time spent with the OEA Club was very minimal. There were a few field trips that the class participated in and various OE activities, as well as some after school activities. This year, the OE students also participated in bowling tournaments, held their own Olympics, and had many pizza parties.

VICA

The Wheaton Central High School V.I.C.A. students are members of cooperative education classes. These students hold vocational jobs during the school day. V.I.C.A. stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The WCHS chapter is affiliated with both the state and national organizations. This year, V.I.C.A. students sponsored the annual Christmas Canned Food Drive, participated in leadership activities, organized fund raising activities, and participated in the annual Employer-Employee Banquet and the Illinois Skills Olympics Competition.

Row 4: Tanya Thornley, Kelly McVey, Butch Santucci, Dan Cathern, Martin Blackwell, Scott Wirkus, Kevin Daly, Scott Lucas.

Between working, attending school, and participating in various social activities, the members of the Distributive Education Class had a very busy year. Members of DE attended school for half a day and then went directly to work. The group had also attended several workshops, participated in Centrafest, and visited the Sanwood Nursing home. Not only did the DE program allow students to prepare for the future, it also helped to create strong bonds of friendship, and memories that will last a lifetime.

Central Technology, also known as Centech, was created with the purpose of bettering students' knowledge of day-to-day business operations. Starting the company required several functions, such as raising capital, choosing a product, and marketing the product. Centech returned a 40% dividend and the original investment, excelling both academically and financially. Because of this excellent leadership, and the entire group's desire to succeed, Centech was a success.

Where can you find normally sane people eating cold pizza and making tangram puzzles out of photos and graph paper? In the yearbook office, of course.

The yearbook sponsor and staff of editors, photographers, typists, writers, and layout assistants spent many hours this year pooling their talents. The staff began meeting in September and worked through February. Many nights, the staff stayed until 6:00 or even until 10:00. From these long work sessions came ideas for the book's theme, content, and organization.

Producing this year's Wecomi was tiring, but fun as well. The staff never forgot to send a few members to the nearby Jewel to buy snacks. On late nights, Mr. Elfstrom would often provide pizza for everyone. The staff members discovered new friends, a lot of private jokes, and creative uses for croppers. Someone usually brought a ghetto blaster and the staff let off steam by arguing over which tapes to play.

The pressure did start to build in the last weeks before deadline. With lost pictures and missing copy, the Wecomi started to look like an incomplete jigsaw puzzle. Thanks to a lot of perseverance and low levels of insanity, the staff stuck with the job until it was finished. (Mr. Elfstrom had hair in September.)

On several Fridays this year, many students could be seen wearing bright orange and black buttons that said, "The Pride." These people were the staff of the Wheaton Central newspaper. The Pride was issued to the student body one Friday each month. Filled with teacher and student interviews, editorials, and reviews, in addition to more standard news items, the newspaper was eagerly awaited each month.

The Pride sponsor was Mrs. McNeal-Bulak. She not only turned her classroom into the newspaper office, but helped in all of the stages of newspaper production. The Pride's organizer was Editor-in-Chief Shauna Kettinger, who presided over meetings and kept everything running smoothly. Shauna was aided by the rest of the editorial staff and, of course, the reporters.

The Pride reporters were a talented and dedicated group. They covered all of the traditional assignments and used their creativity to produce cartoons, special features, and poetry.

The staff met almost every Wednesday and many days in-between to brainstorm, write, type, proof, correct, proof, layout, proof, print, and brainstorm again. This year's Pride was really something to be proud of.

THIS ONE'S FOR YOU!

After 30 years of teaching high school students, Mr. Don Elfstrom has decided to retire. This year will be the last of a varied and challenging career.

Mr. Elfstrom has taught at the State University of Iowa Lab School, Wheaton North, Wheaton-Warrenville, and Wheaton Central. He has taught many different English-related courses: Brit. Lit, Creative Writing, Journalism, and basic Com. courses. Mr. Elfstrom has also taught 25 sessions of summer school. Because of his long teaching career, Mr. Elfstrom has been able to follow the careers of some of his students. He has taught John Belushi, several writers and a former Miss Illinois.

In addition to teaching, Mr. Elfstrom has devoted a large part of his free time to sponsoring school activities. He has been newspaper sponsor, yearbook sponsor, and for a number of years he held both positions. Mr. Elfstrom also founded Central's literary magazine, The Vignetter. However, Mr. Elfstrom's activities haven't all been strictly intellectual. He has organized six European tours for students and staff members which have been very popular.

It is plain to see that Mr. Elfstrom is dedicated and truly interested in the subject he teaches. The great amount of time he spends as a teacher and sponsor has been an inspiration to students. His support and guidance have helped them understand how the English-related skills they learn in school can be applied to "the real world."

It is appropriate that we dedicate this Wecomi to him, because it is the 20th yearbook he has sponsored. Happy Anniversary, Mr. Elfstrom!

Tiger football 1986 got off to a great start thanks to the super turn out at the Tigerama P Roast, funded by good friends Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brock. Even though conference coaches picked the team to finish last due to only four returning letter winners, they proved that great attitude, leadership, and hard work can win games. The Tigers started the season with an exciting victory over West Aurora — the Pat Elmazi to Chris Joyce connection was extremely impressive. Our sophomores, playing with the Varsity, also made a big impact on all attendance.

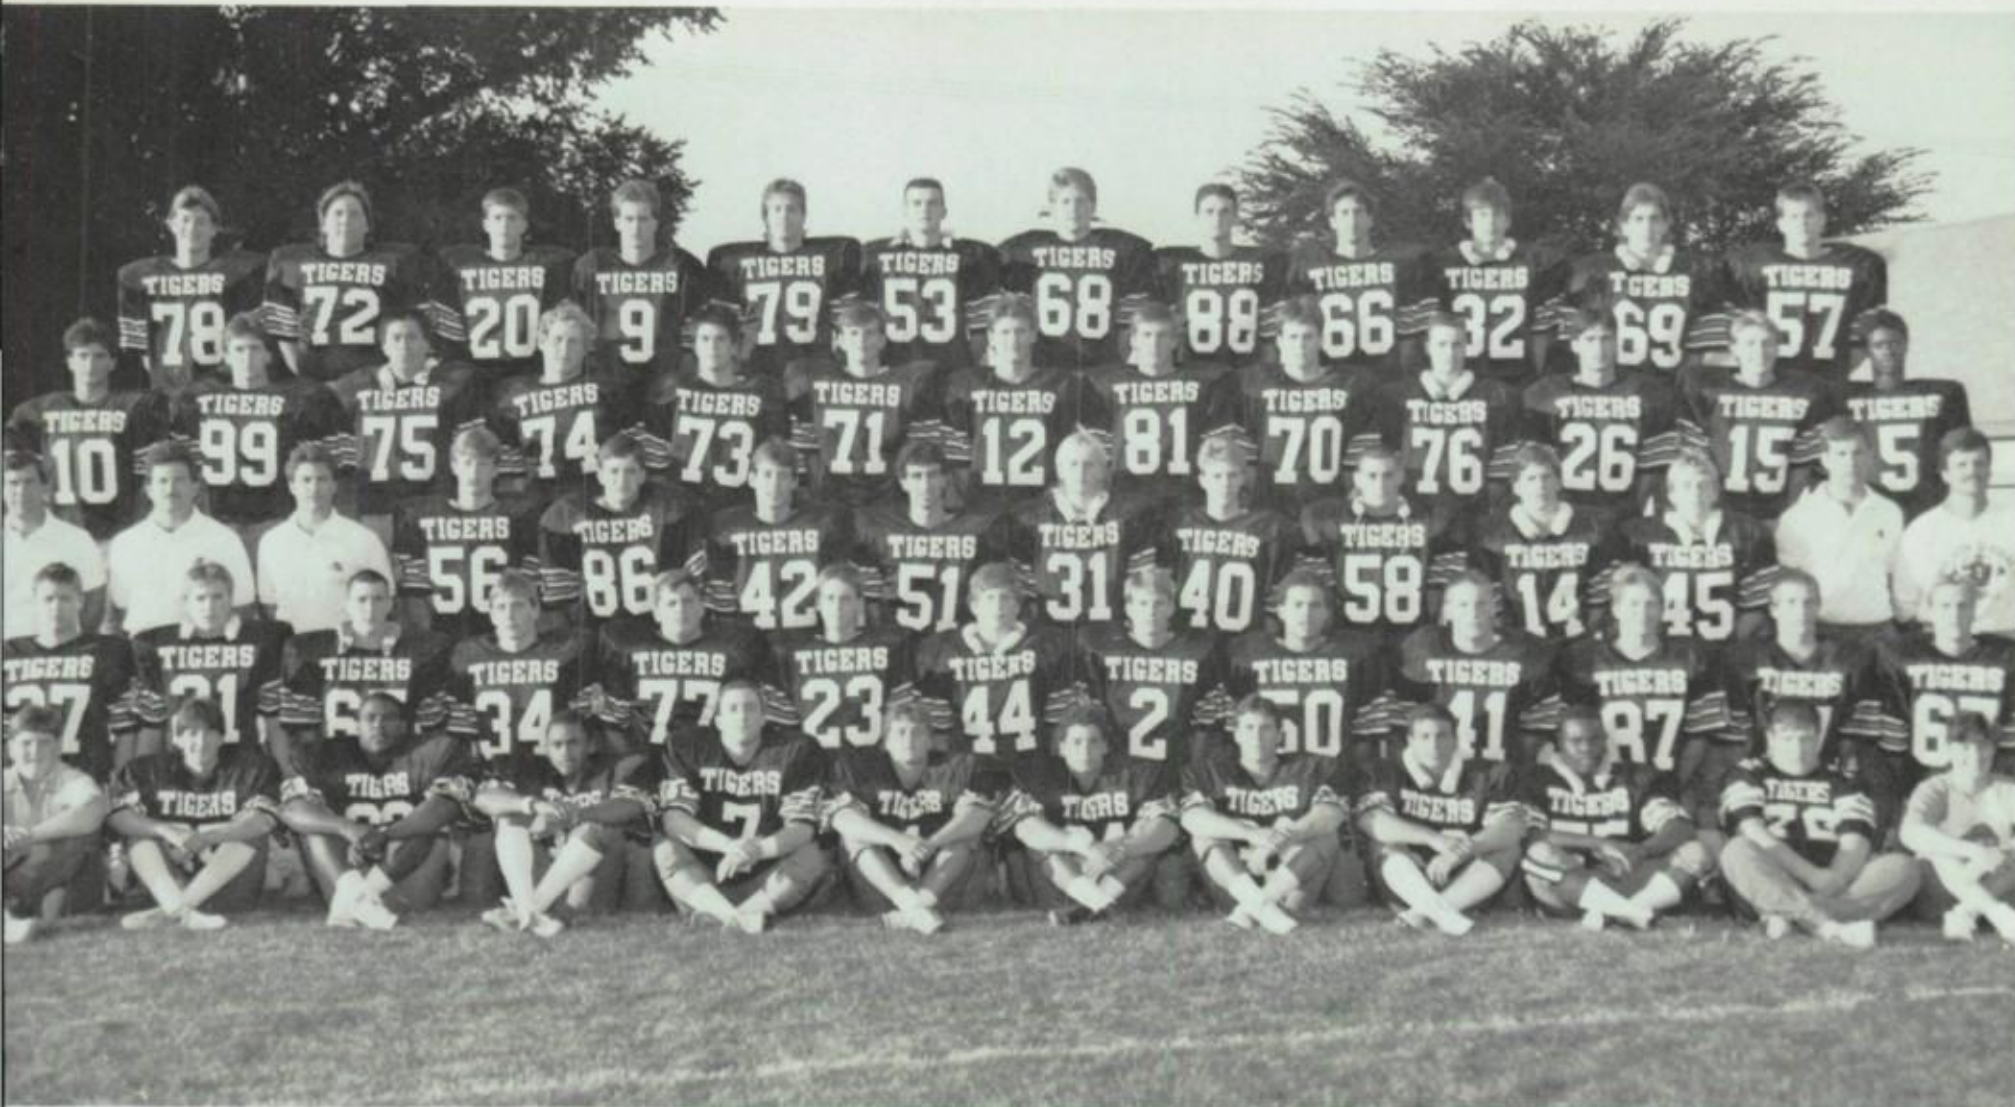

Things really started hopping as the Tigers beat St. Joseph 47-8. The offense worked to perfection and the defense showed they were ready to create turnovers and scoring opportunities with Brad Salzmänn and Devin Leftwich playing especially well.

The team's real test, however, was a 12-6 victory over Glenbard South in double overtime — and pounding rain. This game earned them much-deserved respect — the papers even rated them in the top Division 5A schools!

The Tigers came back to earth with a loss to Wheaton North and linebacker D.J. Tryba for the next two weeks due to a knee injury. They did rebound nicely to defeat West Aurora behind the running of Jon Davis.

Tiger football finished the season with a nearly perfect first half against Glenbard East. Great passing by Pat Elmazi and a super team defensive effort created a 27-0 half time lead. The victory gave the team a 5-4 record and brought an end to yet another enjoyable year.

During the next three weeks the team had a bit of a struggle mainly due to injuries; the team played well against Naperville Central due to the running and fine catches of the offense. The Tiger defense also played a great game behind outstanding efforts of Dan Muir and D.J. Tryba.

The Sophomore football team had a good season. For what may seem to most an average record was outstanding for a team that had five of the best sophomores on varsity. The team was directed by Coach Allured and Coach Greenlee. The players learned a lot more about teamwork and themselves.

Many of the games were close, and the boys never gave up. Being more experienced, and a year older, the sophomores can be expected to be big assets to the varsity next year.

This year's Freshman football team was very unique. Five sets of twins played on the team — all at the same time! They are: Bryan and Bradley Purl. Greg and Scott Siebert, Joseph and Henry Burrell, Martin and Michael Wurmlinger, and Marc and Mike Macellaio. The twins were shown on network T.V., and their pictures were in several major papers.

On the football field, the freshmen were awesome. The team was undefeated, won Conference, and had the best record of all the football teams at Central this year. Congratulations and good luck in the future.

The Tigerettes worked long and hard this summer to perfect their routines for the 1986 football season. In July, they attended one of the eighteen sessions of the Mid American Pom Pon Camp at Aurora College. The girls did a superb job, winning first place for originality and wrapping up the overall title at the camp. At the end of all eighteen sessions, the camp chose fifty girls for their All Star team. These outstanding people included co-captains Megan Donnelly and Kristen Hoppenstedt, as well as Mary Cione, Jenny Hoppenstedt, Colleen Mini, Lisa Mini, and Annie Ni.

Tigerama kicked off the year for the Tigerettes. After four home games, the girls changed their stereotypical pom-pom routines by exercising with the football players to "Playing with the Boys," at the Homecoming pep assembly. The girls ended the season with their thrilling Halloween routine.

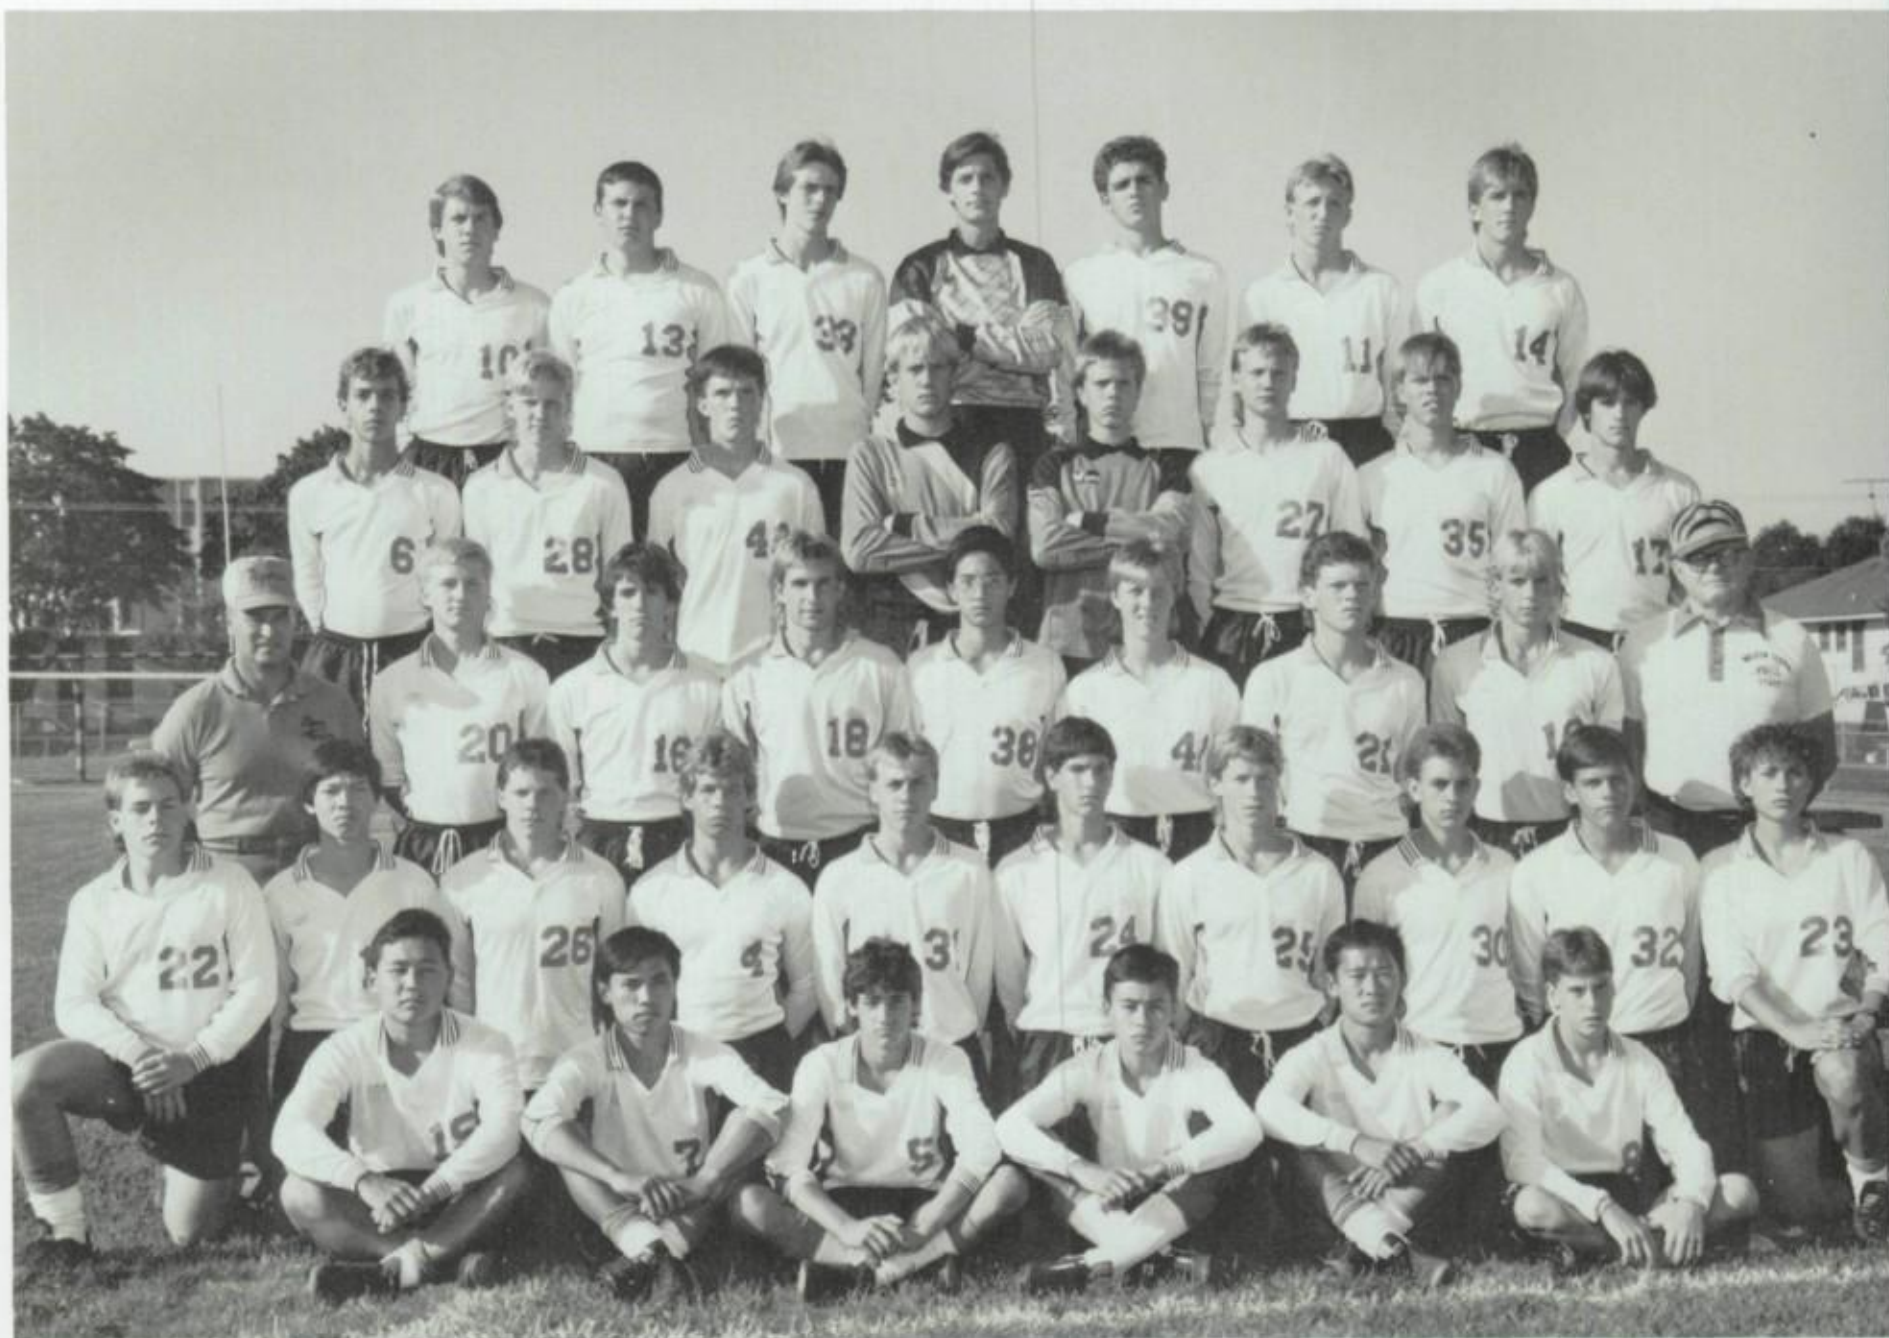

The Tigerettes proved to others, and more importantly themselves, that people can achieve as a team. The girls have learned that with hard work and dedication, anyone can succeed.

The Tiger Soccer team did very well this season. They started out shaky but came on strong at the end. The highlights of the season included a tie with Glenbrook North — the first time ever that Wheaton Central had not lost to Glenbrook North. In Regionals, the Tigers were seated fourth, but beat Glenbard West 5-1, number one seed Lake Park 2-1 and number three seed Streamwood 3-2 (after four overtimes and a shoot-out), to become Regional champions. At Sectionals they lost in the first game to Barrington.

Dave Busboom was Most Valuable Player as he played sweeper; Tony Kim and Bob Scheibel also played very well for the defense. Ken Sweeder was a consistent goalie, and he made several spectacular saves. Eric Olson, who has earned three Varsity letters, was the backbone of the team because of his outstanding play and leadership.

Finishing with a record of 14-0-3, the Sophomore Soccer team had an outstanding season. The determination and desire to win showed on the practice field as well as the playing field. Each member contributed with this uniqueness to make the year's success a team effort. Hopefully each of the player's will continue to work hard to refine their ball skills and increase their stamina, endurance and over all fitness to maintain this tradition of success for Wheaton Central.

The Freshman team started out a little slow this year; and although their record doesn't show it, they had an improved season. The team went through a couple of tough 1-0 losses, where the one and only one goal was scored in the last few minutes of the game. Fortunately, they suffered only one injury during the season. The team, led by Coach Stowell, will remember this season and try to improve play for next year.

GIRLS' TENNIS

The Varsity girls' tennis team had a great season. Co-captains Robyn Swatland and Nancy Fox helped to keep the team sprit up and earn second place in Conference. Coach Joy Pierson kept the team together with several pizza parties and other social events.

Breda Dean, singles, Katie Kroger and Sara Thompson and Gwyn Hughes and Robyn Swatland, doubles, earned a trip to State. They all did well, winning enough matches to go back for the second day of play.

Everyone did an excellent job, and should be commended.

The season was especially exciting for the Junior Varsity team. They came in at second place in Conference, and beat Wheaton North. The team was coached by Lauren Buccino. The captain, Jenny Arquilla, gave the team leadership and moral support, besides excellent play. At Conference, all players did extremely well, either winning second or third place. With the experience gained this year, the girls will be warmly welcomed to the Varsity team next year.

The Freshman-Sophomore Tennis Team, coached by Lauren Buccino, performed well this season. However, because most schools don't have a Frosh-Soph team, the girls didn't have many opportunities to play competitively. They got experience by playing against other teams' Junior Varsity Teams in exhibition games. These players should be big assets to next year's teams.

VOLLEYBALL

The Varsity Volleyball team had a hard year. They had a new coach and a very young team - all Sophmores and Juniors. Even so, the girls learned a lot about teamwork and the game itself. Captain Marianne Temple and Cathy Groth had particularly outstanding play, and were named special mention all conference. Krista Novak also did an excellent job and was named honorable mention all conference.

Meganne Koylowski, Jenni Heaton, and Michele Santoianni did a great job at setting, defense, and net play, respectively. They along with Marianne, Cathy, and Krista, also had excellent serves.

Liz Toohey, a first year player, surprised everyone with her natural talent at volleyball. She did a super job and should be an even bigger asset to the team next year. Erika Warchol, Brenda Shay, and Ayesha Elam all did fantastic jobs when called on in substitution roles. Manager Kyle Tryba led all others with her large amounts of spirit. She really kept the players' morale up. Better luck to all next year. As one set of parents put it, "If losing builds characters, this team has the biggest bunch of characters anyone has ever seen."

The Junior Varsity had a difficult year, with getting a new coach who turned out to be wonderful, and losing many great players to Varsity. Even so, they learned a lot about volleyball and how to be a team. Outstanding players include: Karen Charles, Rachel Reinerth, Kelly Gallagher, and Joy Shedd. Everyone had to pitch in at the end, and Kim Williams, Laura Baumgardner, Tangie Ivery, Christine Distazio, Candy Boosted and Heidi Spitymagle did a fantastic job filling in. Thanks also to the manager Cathy for her long hours and morale boost. Good luck next year.

wins(11) than any previous first year team. The year started off slowly, as most players had little idea of how the game should be played. However the year ended with a bang, as they won their last two tournaments and several conference games. Many of the players were outstanding, but particularly noticable were Betsy Boudreau, Angela Guerriere, Elissa DeClute, Katie Blinn, and Betsy Nieman, Claudine Calmeyn, Alexis Genetski, Amy Knight, Monica Slater, Kelly O'Conner, and Amy Eichenberger also added to many games with great serves and defense plays. Many others, especially managers Kris Thornburg and Kari Barton, added to the team spirit and also did a great job. Congratulations to everyone.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GOLF

Co-captains Brian Dahlquist and Brian O'Malley led the boys' golf team to an outstanding season. The boys' golf team unexpectedly won first place at the conference meet. Individually, Matt Troxel won first place at the conference meet. The Tigers finished third in the DuPage Valley Conference. In post-season, senior Sean Galligar played in the regionals and sectionals. The boys' golf team had a great season and anticipates yet more victories next year.

The 1986 Cross Country team has completed a season of accomplishment. They worked hard with the leadership of senior captains Mike Lilly and Mike Shanks. The team practiced each weeknight to prepare for their strenuous three mile races on Saturday. It seemed the competition was tense and the team showed evident progress, but nothing came easily. The team faced disappointment later in the season when injury began to become a ruthless factor in the loss of several valuable runners.

The sport of Cross Country takes mental toughness, great endurance, and many hours of hard work to be successful. The guys truly showed all of the following qualities this year. They placed 8th in Conference, beat Oswego in their last dual meet, and made a healthy showing at Regionals. They are looking ahead to next year and feel their potential is building. They will continue to work hard and bid the following seniors Chris Stanaway, Jim Czajka, Mike Shanks, Mike Anthony, Mike Lilly, Peter Darcey and Chris Hoffman farewell.

What has 96 legs, tiger spirit, and ran a total of 324 miles this fall. It's the Cross Country team, made up of those 48 dedicated, hard-working, and fun-loving students who could be found every day at Kelly Park. This year's team was one of the best ever. Instructed by Coach Stacey, Coach Neuhaus and alumni Bill Hauke, the team had a successful season. The Varsity girls were led by this year's MVP, Tammy Breighner, who, after winning Regionals, continued on to Sectionals and State. The team ran hard and also learned a lot; but best of all, they had fun!

The Boy's Basketball teams have done really well this year. The Boy's Varsity Basketball season started off inconsistently, but as the season went on, they improved considerably and did really well. However, they did not do very well in the conference. Despite these losses, their most crowning victories which made their season were against Wheaton North. They played these games against them and won two games, both on North's court. The team also made it to the Regional Championships.

Under the coaching of Mr. Stacey, the Sophomore boys Basketball team ended their season with a record of 7 and 8 for the A team, and 13 and 19 for the B team. Both teams combined their group skills and ball handling in order to turn their season into a successful one. In addition to their regular games, they participated in a Lake Park Tournament, winning two out of their 3 games. There were many outstanding players among them: Chad Tressler, Rob Seabrooks, Jeff Thorne, Darren Bell, and Pete Bastianen. Although these players were the main force behind the group the success of the sophomore basketball team was a result of the tremendous efforts of all.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Coming off a year with all graduating seniors, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team, composed of sophomores, juniors, and one senior, was not expected to do well. The season was to be a growing year. The girls surprised everyone, however, winning several early games and coming within a couple points in others.

Led by their captains, the girls kept the ever important spirit and dedication, and ended regular season play with a 16-10 record. As the season progressed, the girls' skills were refined, and team togetherness was at an all time high.

By the time regionals rolled around, the team was in their finest condition of the season. They won their first regional game, and then wowed the whole DuPage Valley Conference by defeating Wheaton North in the Regional finals. The team then advanced to the Streaton Sectional tournament where they played state-ranked St. Charles, and, after a tough fight, eventually lost.

As the team is very young, next year should be even better and more exciting. Marilyn Wilson, a junior, was a unanimous All-Conference selection.

Underclassmen made up the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team. Coached by Mr. Allured, they had an experience that will never be forgotten. The team had a challenging experience each game.

The team did not do as well as they would have liked to, but they did learn about the game and team work. Ending with a 7-14 record, the girls got progressively better. They should all be assets to next year's Varsity team.

Michelle Nainys left the team halfway through the season and is wished the best of luck.

The Freshman Team, coached by Miss Kessler, was once again hampered from the lack of interscholastic sports at the middle school level.

Nevertheless, the girls were very athletic and learned the game quickly. They won 6 games and lost 17, but many of the losses were close. As their playing experiences increased, the team got better and is expected to be very successful at the Junior Varsity level next year.

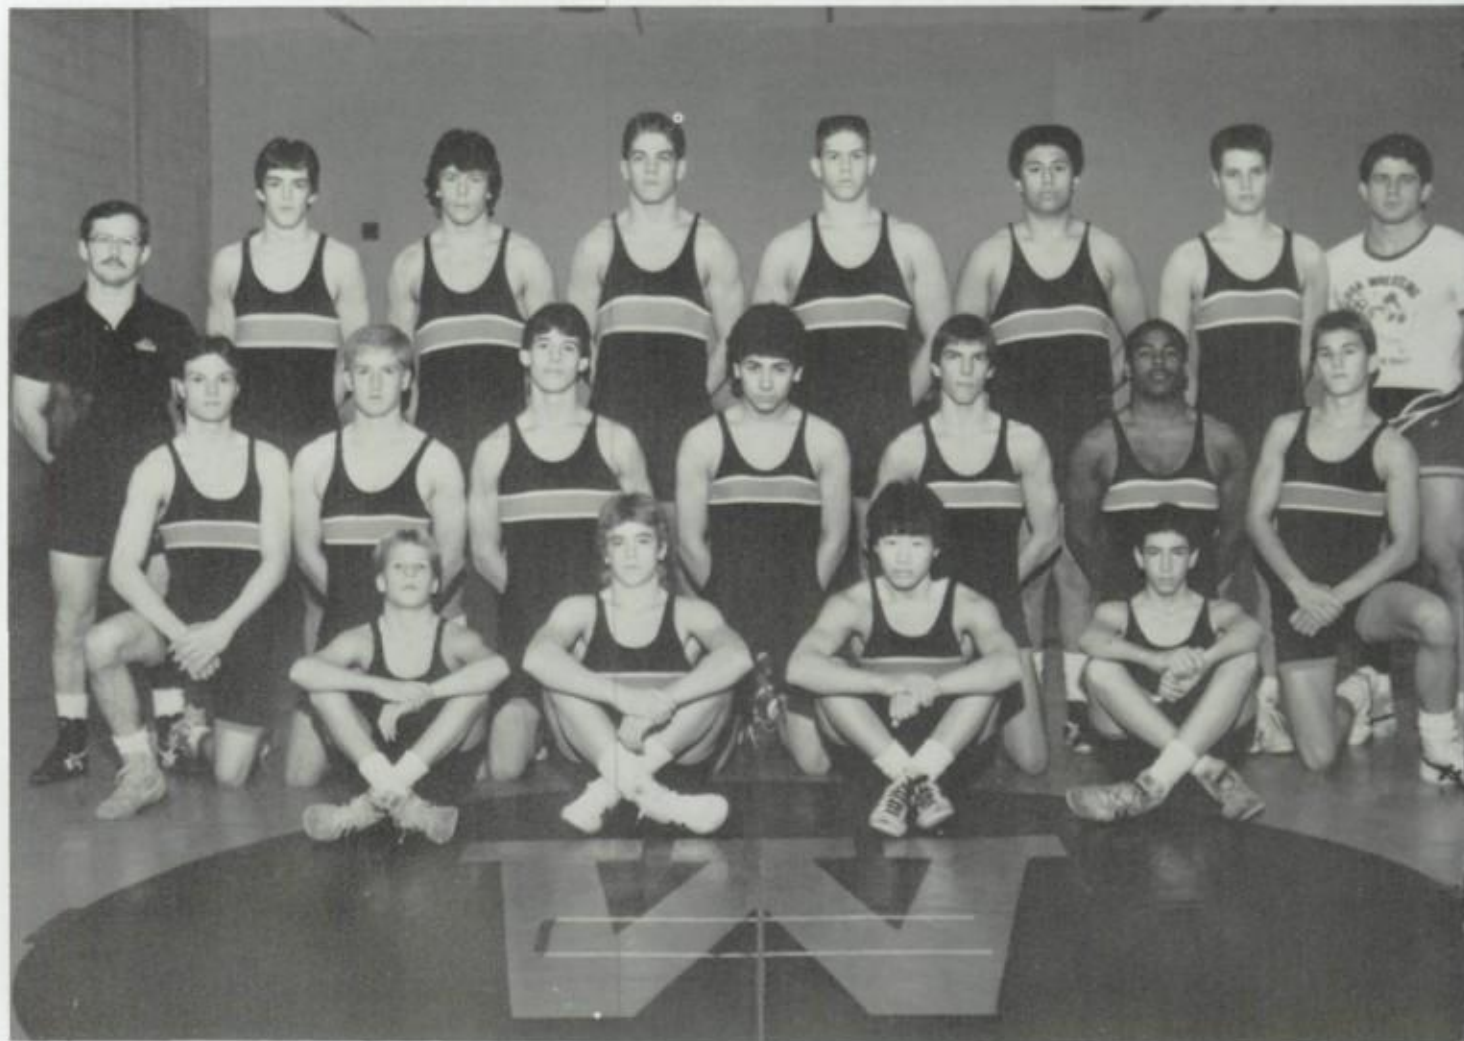

Upcoming Freshmen Teams won't have the problem of learning basic skills and teamwork that the past teams have had because interscholastic sports are being reinstated at the middle school level.

WRESTLING

The Varsity Wrestling Team didn't have a good year as a team, but certain individuals wrestled exceptionally well. Phil Tomek, who went to state last year, had a great season this year, also. He compiled a 26-4 record and won the DuPage Valley Conference. Three of his losses were to the same person. He came in second at both Regionals and Sectionals and placed sixth in state. Other individuals with superior performances were Dan Cothorn, second in Conference, and Art O'Dell, also second in Conference. With many sophomores and juniors on Varsity, the team looks to be strong next year. Coach Houle and Coach Tomek helped to direct the team in improving their wrestling techniques. Bob Penney and Phil Tomek were co-captains and the team had three returning lettermen: Dan Cothorn, Erik Fuller and Art O'Dell.

Gymnastics has finally gotten off the ground at Wheaton Central. Coach Diane Gallione, in her third year, directed the Varsity girls to a 5-5-1 record and third place in the conference-one of the best records ever at Wheaton Central. Tori Krulac, Captain, did especially well, and almost made state. Team members Jen Husak, Lori Zahorodny, Amber Gideon, Stacy Ohlmann, and Mary Cione also added to the team's success with good scores in their specialties.

The Junior Varsity Team also had a great year, compiling a 6-5 record. This is the first winning record in Central's history. Congratulations!

FOOTBALL/BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS

The 1986- 87 cheerleaders could be seen practicing early each morning during the long, hot summer months. They competed against other squads at camp and learned new cheers. When school started, they practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays after school. Led by captains Rebecca Bothwell and Lisa Aellig, the girls cheered on the football and basketball teams as well as making locker stickers and "goody boxes." The 1986- 87 cheerleaders can look back at camp, practices, cheers and get- togethers and smile about the fun they had together, and the friendships that were made.

Varsity: Row 1: Stacy Thorne, Lisa Aellig, Rebecca Bothwell, Karen Kaul. Row 2: Kelli Downey, Jenny Arquilla, Mindy Hammer. Row 3: Tracy Pierson, Nancy Jozwiak, Alesha Gundersen.

SOCCER/WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS

IN THE AIR TONIGHT:

HOMECOMING '86

The year started out with a bang as the 1986 Homecoming week arrived. On Monday, students wore college t-shirts, and in the afternoon there was a pep assembly at which the Homecoming court was announced. After the assembly the student council and other groups held Centralfest, and it was a huge success. That night students gathered at the county fairgrounds to revive the old tradition, the bonfire! Tuesday was teacher/student switch day. Kids taught their first hour class while teachers dressed comfortably like students. Wednesday was Hawaiian Toga Day.

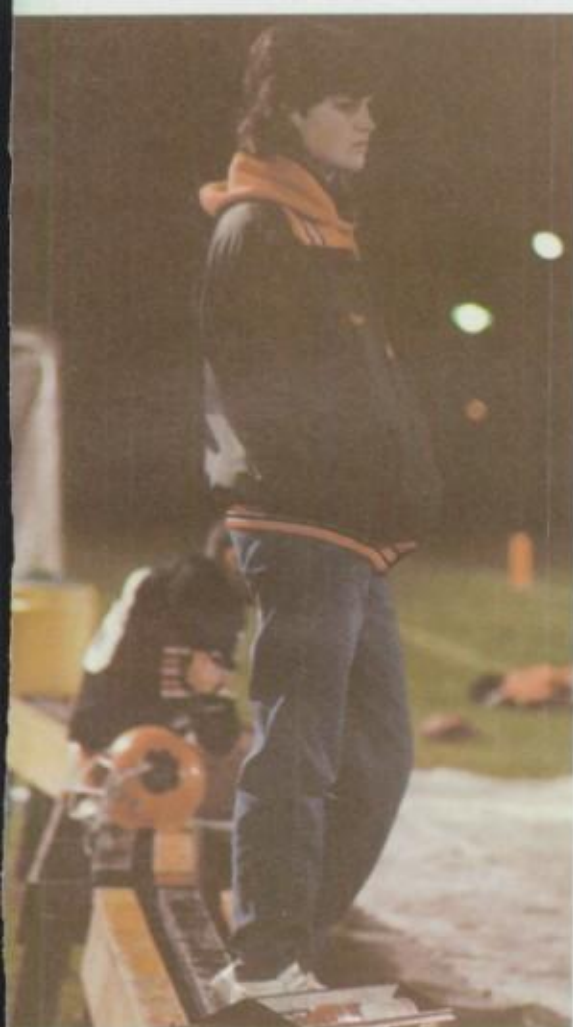

Latin students could be seen wearing togas in order to receive extra credit from Mr. Bachtold. Students danced the night away at the open house that evening. Thursday was the annual Orange and Black Day. Both people and hallways were tremendously decked out in our school colors. At the pep assembly, the band cut loose and awed the student body, receiving the standing ovation they deserved. Friday, kids had a day off, but that night the stands were packed for the big football game. Unfortunately the Tigers were beaten by the Redskins. At halftime, Lisa Aellig was crowned Homecoming Queen, and at the dance on Saturday night, Eric Olsen was crowned King, concluding an exciting and successful week.

EDITOR'S NOTES

Being editor of the yearbook this year was a challenging and enriching experience for me. Putting together a yearbook was virtually new to me, but with the help of Mr. Elfstrom, I learned all about the production of the yearbook.

Producing this year's yearbook wasn't just pizza parties and times for socializing with friends. A lot of hard work and time as well as energy went into putting the book together.

This year's yearbook staff was smaller than that of last year, but we had a staff of dedicated and devoted editors.

Kelly Hardin was a tremendous help to me as assistant editor. She really came through for us when we needed someone to do the junior section as well as other areas of the book that needed to be done. I can't imagine what I would have done without her help.

Neha Desai, our cover artist and layout editor, did a marvelous job transferring our ideas for the cover of the book onto paper. She also volunteered to do typing as well as layouts and she took pictures for the senior section. What a little Dynamo!

Karolina Gustafson was senior editor and what a breath of fresh air she was! Working on the yearbook was virtually new to her but she came through with some great ideas for the senior section.

Alanna Walen did a great job as chief yearbook photographer. It was a big job, but she handled it with ease. She's a true credit to photographers all over the world.

We owe the completion of the activities section to Mary McCall. She did a terrific job of getting pictures, identifying people, and writing copy.

The sports section was a difficult section to put together, but with the team effort of Anu Mahajan and Cherylyn Cornell, we got the job done.

Jenni Heaton was copy editor. She did a nice job of getting copy for the different activities that appear in the book.

Cathy Woodhouse was our index editor. She was a big help to us when there was typing to be done and she helped a lot with the sports section.

Because there wasn't much for her to do as business editor, Heather Schultz willingly helped out with just about anything that needed to be done.

I would especially like to thank Mr. Elfstrom for all of the help he gave us in making this year's book. I would also like to thank him for all of the time, patience, energy, and pizzas he supplied the staff with.

The list of people who contributed to the production of the yearbook wouldn't be complete without listing the following people who gladly gave up their time to help us: Keshia Bobo, Monica Koriakin, Tracy Artman, Alyssa Dresel, Olga Economos, Theresa Kendricks, Karen Kolb, Annie Huang, Sarah Jane Rhee, Deborah Smith, Christine Tsiang, Sara Gustafson, Jenny Esterman, Lee Harris, and Serene Sheikh.

Now that the yearbook is finished, I feel a sense of relief as well as a sense of accomplishment. I believe that this year's staff has done a great job capturing the events that shaped the year. I only hope that the student body of Wheaton Central has as much pleasure looking at the book as we have had putting the book together.

Sincerely yours

Raquel Brown
Editor-in-Chief

BADMINTON

This year's badminton team was mainly composed of underclassmen and three returning varsity players. Its main problem was inexperience, but after dedicated practices and undying commitment and spirit, it began to overcome its weaknesses.

As a team, the girls only won one game, but several individuals were successful. Playing second doubles, Jenni "Face" Heaton and Carrie Olsen were undefeated in Conference until an injury sidelined Jenni. Jenni also topped the singles ranking with several wins. Cathy "the Stalker" Woodhouse and her first doubles partner Mary McCall wrapped up the season's excitement by winning several games at sectionals and advancing to state. Due to injuries, other varsity members were forced to play in advanced positions, and succeeded.

During practices, the team thrived on their daily dose of "buddies" and "machine guns." After practices and games, they celebrated at McDonald's and Bennigan's.

The highlight of the season was the Leyden Invitational where the team won third place and almost every member took home an individual award.

At the end-of-the-season awards ceremony, Most Valuable Player was awarded to Jenni Heaton and J-V captain Allison Frey. The Most Improved awards were presented to Becky Reese and Debbie Crocker.

BOYS' TENNIS

The Tiger Tennis Team had a mixed season this year. The JV Team had an outstanding winning season, with an overall record of 12-3, and a Conference record of 5-2, placing them 3rd in Conference. Outstanding achievers include Andy Epperly, 2nd place 1st singles; Chris Byrne and Bill Maliff, 2nd place 1st doubles; and Tor Liimatainen and Neeru Jayanthi, 3rd place 2nd doubles. The future of the tennis team looks to be very promising judged by the hard work and talent of these young players.

The Varsity Team struggled through a losing season. The team, however, placed well at the St. Charles and Fenton Invitationals. With many of the Varsity players making the transition from JV to Varsity this year, many of the players look to captains John Dean and Tony Kim for tips and leadership. Coach Cherry will certainly have a promising season next year when he will have a good number of experienced, returning Varsity players.

Determination was the key element for a successful '87 Track season. All levels put forth their best effort to attain their seasonal goals. Under the leadership, instruction, and guidance of Coach Tom Lockhart, Coach Bryan Loynachan, Coach Daryll Fitts and Coach Diane De-Graff, the team performed exceptionally well in all areas.

The '87 Girls Track Team broke seven of the indoor/outdoor records. The Girls Varsity team had four girls who qualified for State: Kesha Bobo, in the 100 yard dash, and Tammy Breighner in the 2 mile run. Both girls along with Marianne Temple and Liz Toohey were part of the mile relay team.

The '87 Boys Track Team had a great season due to the support of Coaches Bill Hauke, Vern Neuhaus, and Mark Coleman. Varsity members Martin Blackwell and Nevin Govan had exceptional seasons and advanced to State competition. The boys season was filled with personal bests. Juniors Jim Focht, Lee Hildebrand and Dave Hedlund were the driving forces this season and will be the ones to look for next season.

As this season was great, next season promises to be even better with talents coming from both the Varsity and Junior Varsity levels.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

In a year which showed only three returning varsity players, the WCSH started seven first year players and had a very satisfactory season. The Tigers finished with a 14-16 record but produced many highlights. Seniors Megan Donnelly and Susie Whowell led the team. Both made first team All-Conference as did Junior pitcher Jen Barbour and Sophomore catcher Cecelia Rettig. Megan also was named to the All-State team.

VARIETY SHOW AND

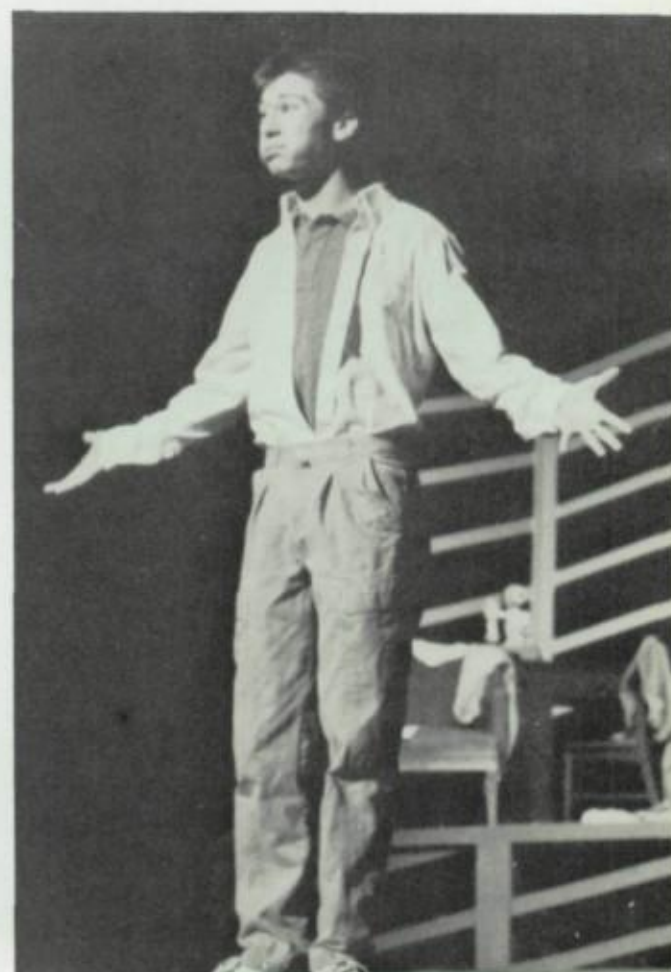

Two and a half hours jammed with talent — singing, dancing, bands, orchestras, comedy and show choir — helped to make the 1987 Variety Show a pleasure for all who attended. Emcees Charlie Jensen and Annie Ni added a touch of class to the evening, while Without Warning and Eruption got the house rocking with their music. On the more traditional side, the Girls' Danceline performed tap and jazz numbers, the fine quality of our orchestra impressed the audience, and the other talented group and solo acts gave our school something to be proud of. Of course, the fill-in comedy acts, directed by Charlie Jensen and Chris Mancini, and the faculty singers kept the audience thoroughly entertained. Thanks to the performers, the Tech Crew, and an enthusiastic audience, the Varsity Show was once again a complete success.

THE CONTEST PLAY

Wheaton Central's Contest Play, directed by Mr. Gerace, was a huge success this year. The play, entitled "Present Tense" by John McNamara, concerned the trials and tribulations of an insecure teenager named Norm, portrayed by Keith Spengel. His girlfriend Ann, Jennie Colby, nemesis Doug, Chris Mancini, appeared to Norm in dreams and real visits to carry out the action of the play. This also included the help of his best friend Jerry, Mike Crowl, a dream girl, Tracy Artman, the cheerleader Margie, Sessie Schomas, and his mom, Jenny Esterman.

This energetic cast took first at regionals and sectionals with a seventh at state. Not bad, considering they were the only comedy out of twelve dramas.

1987 PROM: "FOREVER BY YOUR SIDE"

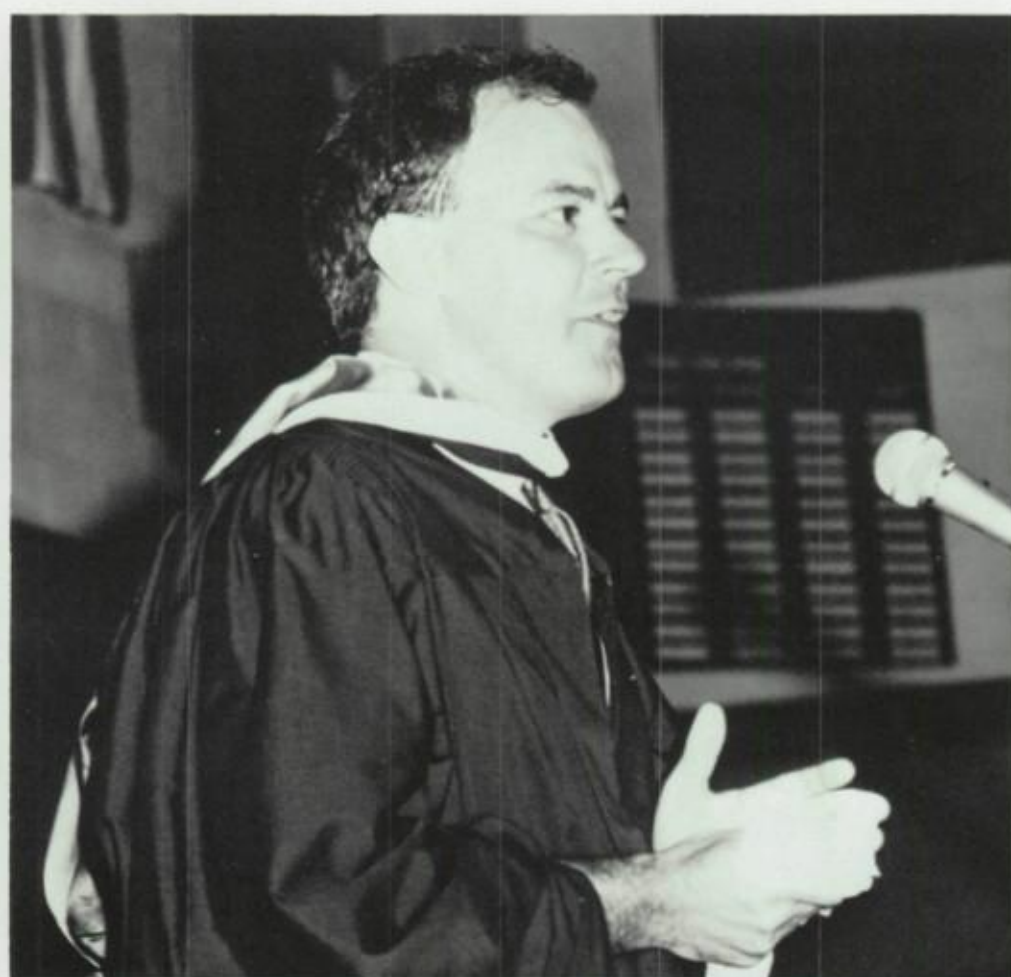

CENTRAL SALUTES

The crowning moment of the whole high school experience was played out in full pageantry on Sunday, June 14 when seniors, as well as faculty department heads, donned their graduation robes for the long-awaited ceremony. The seniors, under the combined effects of Graduation Day itself and the intense heat in Colin Gym, felt elated, calm, nervous, proud, and sad all at the same time! And while the temperature literally soared, the class speakers did manage to provide a little relief. Chris Mancini took a backward glance into the past in his speech, while Corrie Tressler bade the Class to grow and to reach for the future. Mr. Baker also spoke on behalf of the faculty. The members of the 103rd Graduating Class worked hard here at Central, and proved that with hard work comes true success. Goodbye, Class of '87 — and good luck!

THE CLASS OF 1987

SPRING ART SHOW

This spring, Wheaton Central held its fourth annual Art Show. This extravaganza combined the many talents of the Art, Home Economics, and Music Departments. The theme for this year's show was Arts Ahoy. Food from various states bordering the coasts of the United States was prepared by the foods classes. Before the fashion show was held on the deck of the S.S. W.C.H.S., ensembles of saxophones, violins, singers, and other musical acts, entertained the admirers of the students' art.

For the first time ever, alumni of Wheaton Central from 1969-1986 displayed their works of art. Many who have since graduated and have pursued a career in commercial art displayed their finished products.

Continuing the tradition of outstanding accomplishments by WCHS art students, these students won cash awards or scholarships from various competitions: Mindy Blackwell, Jean Bang, Julie Elders, Emily McEwan, Kurt Brushwyler, and Tom Harty. In the Scholastic Art Competition, Tom Harty, Tim Larsen, Kim Lewis, Sean Lynch, Emily McEwan, Glen Proctor, Chamlong Ratphimpha, and Carrie Schuler won National Blue Ribbons. Herb Brinkman, Julie Elders, and Jayson Huddleston were gold key winners. Sessie Schomas won Best of Show for one of her outstanding pieces of art work.

As a special note, two juniors, Emily McEwan and Karin Wang, were winners in the Congressional Art Competition. As winners, their art work will hang in the United States Capitol in Washington D.C. for one year. Congratulations to these two winners and all the winners in this year's Art Show.
